SHREVEPORT-BOSSIER CITY

Centenary College is located two miles from downtown Shreveport, the third largest city in the state of Louisiana. Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in Northwest Louisiana. Over 300,000 people reside in the metropolitan Shreveport area.

Shreveport is considered the geographical, cultural, and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex, encompassing East Texas, Northern Louisiana, and Southern Arkansas. Shreveport is only a few hours away by car from other major cities such as Dallas and Houston in Texas, Baton Rouge and New Orleans in Louisiana, Jackson, Mississippi, and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Shreveport is separated from Bossier City by the Red River, but many locals consider themselves residents of the Shreveport-Bossier region as a whole instead of one of the specific cities. People who live here think nothing of crossing the river to take in an event, no matter which city is the official host.

There seems to always be a festival going on that shines a spotlight on some aspect of life in Shreveport-Bossier that is unique. In May, the Mudbug Madness Festival celebrates the abundance of crawfish found in the area, while African-American culture is celebrated in June with the Good Times Roll Festival, featuring music, art and food.

One of the major highlights of the year in Shreveport is the State Fair of Louisiana, held every October. The fair features more than 70 rides and one of the finest livestock gatherings in the United States.

Another major event that showcases Shreveport on a national level is the Mainstay Independence Bowl, held in late December. The annual football game, featuring a team from the Big 12 Conference against one from the Southeastern Conference, is carried on national television and showcases the Shreveport-Bossier community coming together to make the event a success.

That is not the only athletic competition held in the area. The CenturyTel Center, a 12,000-seat arena opened in 2000, is the home of minor league hockey and arena football, as well as basketball games and wrestling events. National fishing tournaments and golf tournaments have also been brought to Shreveport-Bossier in recent years.

The area features a wide range of museums, from autos and aviation to science and Elvis Presley. Many of the buildings in downtown Shreveport are now listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and a trip to the piney woods of Northwest Louisiana will yield visits to rural towns such as Vivian, Plain Dealing and Shongaloo, each one with its own collection of treasures, history, and fine dining.

There are plenty of outdoor activities in the Shreveport-Bossier area. From hiking at the Cypress Black Bayou Recreational Area to golfing at Olde Oaks Golf Club, a Hal Sutton signature course and part of the Audubon Golf Trail, there is something for everyone.

Festival Plaza near Downtown Shreveport, where many gatherings are held throughout the year, such as the Mudbug Madness Festival and the Red River Revel.

THE COLLEGE

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective liberal arts college offering undergraduate programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, as well as a limited number of graduate programs. Students and faculty work together to sustain a community focused on ethical and intellectual development, respect and concern for human and spiritual values, and the joy of creativity and discovery. Consistent with its affiliation with the United Methodist Church, the College encourages a lifelong dedication not only to learning but also to serving others.

In pursuit of these ideals, the College challenges its students to write and speak clearly; to read, listen, and think critically; to comprehend, interpret, and synthesize ideas; to analyze information qualitatively and quantitatively; to appreciate the diversity of human cultures; to respect the value of artistic expression; to realize the importance of a healthy mind and body; and to recognize the interdependence of people and the environment.

Academic Program

Centenary College of Louisiana offers three undergraduate degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Music.

The Centenary curriculum aims to produce graduates of extraordinary intellectual and vocational versatility who are prepared to assume responsible positions in their communities and professions. The College prepares its students in critical thinking and in the fundamental communication skills of writing, speaking and numeracy.

The core curriculum begins with the First-Year Experience, which initiates an emphasis on critical thinking and rhetorical skills in an interdisciplinary context. The balance of the core curriculum further develops these skills while it introduces students to basic areas and fundamental techniques of human inquiry. Specific core requirements are the First-Year Experience and selected courses offering inquiry in the humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences. Additionally, all undergraduates participate in the Centenary Plan, which involves a service-learning project, career exploration, and an intercultural experience.

Academic Facilities

Centenary has a personal computer for one of every three undergraduates. Every residence hall room is wired for free, direct Internet and computer connections. Some 30 computer laboratories are spread throughout campus, as are numerous multimedia editing and projection facilities. The Magale Library, the academic heart of the campus, has a wealth of volumes, searchable databases, personal computers, multi-media accessories, and software programs.

Specially equipped buildings and facilities include the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, the Gold Dome, the Fitness Center and Swimming Pool, Mickle Hall of Science, Hurley Music Building, Jackson Hall, Turner Art Center, and the Meadows Museum of Art.

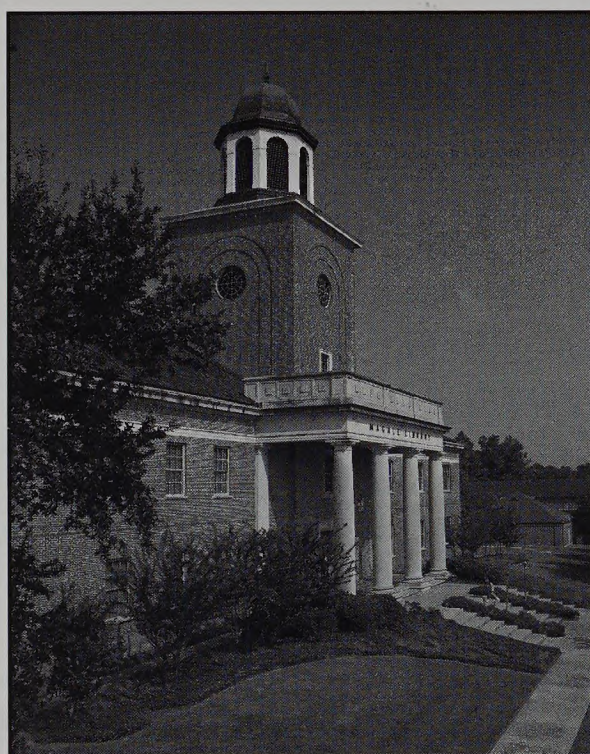

Faculty

More than 90 percent of Centenary's faculty hold the highest degree in their disciplines. There are 74 full-time and 41 part-time faculty members, with a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. There are no graduate students teaching classes at Centenary. The primary emphasis is on teaching, although research and service activities are also important components of the Centenary experience. These activities involve undergraduates to an extent unavailable at large institutions.

Summary

Academic and co-curricular programs support students in their development and encourage them to become leaders in the work place, the community, the nation, and the world at large.

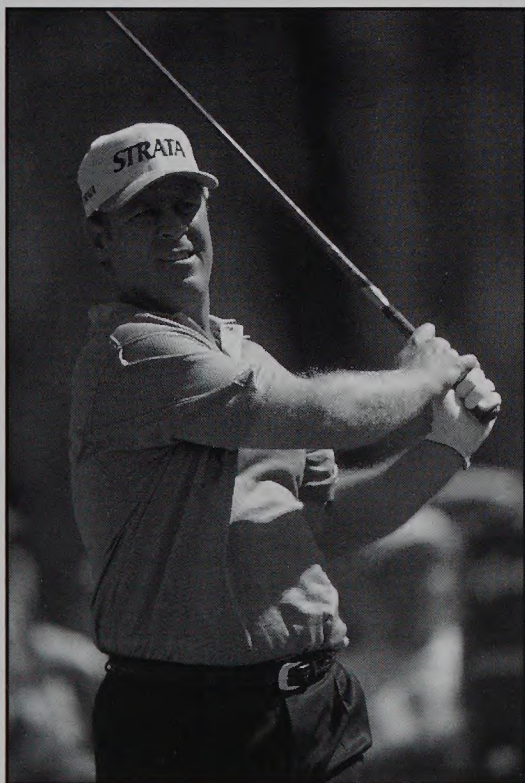

MAGALE LIBRARY

CENTENARY ATHLETICS

Centenary College of Louisiana has fielded an athletic team in at least one sport since 1894, when the football team faced Louisiana State University. Centenary's football squad was one of the best in the South in the first half of the 20th century, the high point being an undefeated 10-0 season in 1927.

Centenary produced professionals Conway Baker, Buddy Parker, and Cal Hubbard. Hubbard is a member of three halls of fame: Pro Football Hall of Fame, College Football Hall of Fame, and Baseball Hall of Fame. However, the poor oil economy in the area forced the discontinuation of the football program in 1947.

The 1920s saw the establishment of the men's basketball and baseball teams at Centenary. The basketball Gents have had 44 seasons with a .500 or better winning percentage, including the 2002-2003 campaign.

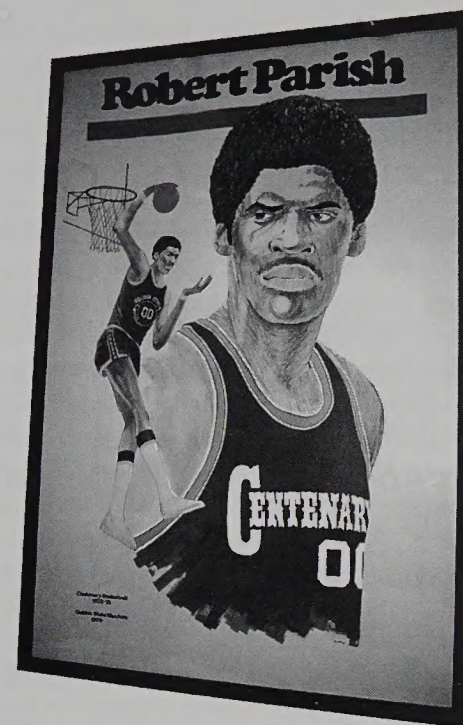

Hal Sutton '81

From 1972 to 1976, Robert Parish dominated Centenary's opponents, leading the Gents to an 87-21 record over that span. Parish still holds numerous Centenary records, including the single game scoring record (50 points vs. Lamar in 1972), the single season rebounding record (18.7 rpg in 1972-73), and the career record for most field goals made (1,034). Parish was drafted in the first round by the Golden State Warriors in 1976 and later, as part of arguably the greatest frontcourt in NBA history, won three NBA championships with the Boston Celtics in the 1980s. In April 2003 Parish was chosen to be inducted in the National Basketball Hall of Fame.

With a new 1,000-seat stadium, the baseball team is attracting top players to play for Centenary and top teams to play against the Gents. Thirty players who put on the Centenary uniform have gone on to play professionally. In recent years, the Gents have hosted Nebraska, Texas A&M, and Kansas at Shehee Stadium, with Iowa, Alabama, and LSU among those teams scheduled to visit Shreveport in 2004.

In 1980 the Golf Magazine College Player of the Year did not come from a traditional power. Hal Sutton, a native of Shreveport who stayed home to attend Centenary, won that honor as well as the 1980 U.S. Amateur. Sutton has gone on to win two Players Championships, a PGA Championship, and a Tour Championship, as well as earn a spot on four U.S. Ryder Cup teams. In 2004, Sutton will be the Ryder Cup captain as the United States looks to win the cup back from Europe.

Recently Centenary athletes

have found their names at or near the top of the NCAA rankings. In 2000, women's soccer player Lara Brown led all Division I players in points per game and goals per game. Ronnie McCollum followed suit during the 2000-2001 basketball season, leading the nation in scoring. Andrew Wisniewski picked up where McCollum left off, finishing in the top 20 in scoring and steals during the 2002-2003 season.

With the addition of men's and women's swimming in 2002-2003, Centenary now sponsors 16 intercollegiate sports, as many as any other Division I program in Northern Louisiana. The gymnastics team consistently qualifies for the USAG National Championships. The women's soccer team has won over 65 percent of their matches in the 11-year history of the program. Most importantly, Centenary's athletes graduate, ready for the real world in whatever field they choose.

MID-CONTINENT CONFERENCE

In its 22nd year as an NCAA Division I athletics league, the Mid-Continent Conference enters an exciting new era in 2003-04. Established in 1982 as the Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU), the Mid-Con has built a reputation in the world of intercollegiate athletics as a nationally competitive and well respected league. This year, it welcomes its first new member institution in six years, and, for the first time in a decade, will have a new face in the Commissioner's office.

The Mid-Con's member schools - Centenary College of Louisiana, Chicago State University, IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, Southern Utah University, Valparaiso University and Western Illinois University - are located primarily in the Midwest's largest urban areas, and pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Mid-Con was founded in 1982, when eight universities banded together to form an NCAA Division I conference. Under the direction of the league's first commissioner, F.L. "Frosty" Ferzacca, the AMCU-8 and its members sponsored nine men's championship sports in that first season. The league's initial line-up included Cleveland State, Eastern Illinois, Illinois-Chicago, Northern Iowa, Southwest Missouri State, Valparaiso, Western Illinois and Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The league's first ten years saw a variety of highlights, including a name change to the now familiar Mid-Continent Conference in 1990. The AMCU first received national attention in 1986, when Cleveland State used its 27-3 record to earn an at-large invitation to the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. The Vikings put the Conference on the map with a stunning 83-79 upset of No. 3 seed Indiana, on their way to a "Sweet 16" appearance.

The league experienced a change in leadership in 1988, when Ferzacca stepped down as the AMCU-8 commissioner. Jerry Ippoliti took over the reins, and guided the Conference into its second decade. Two years after Ippoliti took over as Commissioner, the Mid-Con sent a conference-record three members to men's basketball postseason play in 1990.

The Mid-Con celebrated its 10-year anniversary in 1991-92, and did so in part by announcing plans to debut six women's championship sports the following year. Mid-Con membership reached its peak at ten members during the 1993-94 campaign. The league withstood a major change in membership following the 1993-94 season when six schools departed, but that record number stayed consistent for a total of three years thanks to six new members that joined prior to the 1995-96 season. Current members Chicago State and UMKC were two of the schools chosen to replace the departed institutions in 1994.

Dr. Jon Steinbrecher became the Mid-Con's third Commissioner in 1994, and he spearheaded a major change in the league's membership during his league-record nine-year tenure. Five new members have joined the Mid-Con in the last six years - Oral Roberts and Southern Utah both came on board in 1997, IUPUI and Oakland joined the following year, and Centenary will begin Mid-Con competition this season after accepting an invitation to become the league's ninth member institution in the fall of 2002. Steinbrecher left the Mid-Con in the spring of 2003 to take the same position with the Ohio Valley Conference, and was replaced by Ron Bertovich, a former Atlantic 10 Conference Commissioner who had most recently served as the Executive Vice President for Administration for the NHL's Buffalo Sabres.

The 1997-98 basketball season ended up providing the Mid-Con with some of the most memorable moments in league history. Former member Youngstown State gave the Mid-Con its first-ever win in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament when it upset No. 5 seed Memphis by a 91-80 score. However, it was a well-designed out-of-bounds play and some last-second heroics by a Valparaiso senior that epitomized "March Madness" for the year.

Valparaiso posted a 70-69 win over No. 3 seed Mississippi in the first round of the 1998 NCAA Tourney, but it was no ordinary victory. With just 2.5 seconds left on the clock and Valparaiso trailing by two, the Crusaders' Bryce Drew capped a set play that included a three-quarters court pass and a lateral by draining a 23-footer at the buzzer. The play not only sent Valparaiso on its way to a "Sweet 16" appearance, but also earned Drew an ESPY from ESPN.

Though some of the Mid-Con's most notable achievements have come on the basketball court, the league's successes are hardly restricted to the hardwood. The Mid-Con has seen many of its student-athletes continue their careers at the professional level in a variety of sports, including Drew, a member of the New Orleans Hornets, and former Wright State pitcher Brian Anderson, a member of the 2001 World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks. In addition, the Conference has boasted several Olympic athletes, including Oakland women's soccer player Anita Rapp, who won a gold medal while playing for the Norwegian women's soccer team at the 2000 Sydney Games, and UMKC's Marcia Daniel, who was Dominica's flag-bearer at the Opening Ceremonies that same year.

Mid-Con representatives have maintained the league's two-decade-long tradition of excellence on both a regional and national level. UMKC tallied a first-round upset over Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2-1, OT) in 2001, the league's first-ever NCAA Men's Soccer Tourney win. Later that year, Valparaiso posted the biggest turnaround in NCAA Division I women's basketball, going 26-7 and reaching the 2002 WNIT quarterfinals. The 2002-03 basketball season was highlighted by the fact the Mid-Con sent four teams - IUPUI and Valparaiso in men's basketball, and Valparaiso and Western Illinois on the women's side - to postseason play in the same year for the first time in conference history. Oral Roberts' volleyball and baseball squads have each made six consecutive trips to their respective NCAA Tournaments since joining the Mid-Con; the Golden Eagle baseball squad reached the regional final in 2002 after knocking off top-seeded and host Wichita State twice in as many days. Oakland has won a game in the NCAA Softball Tournament each of the last two seasons.

Great teams are made up of great student-athletes, and the Conference has certainly had its share of those recently. Rapp earned region Player of the Year honors for Oakland in women's soccer in 2001 before moving onto a career in the WUSA. On the basketball court, both the men and women have had representation on a variety of All-America teams, including Oakland's Mike Helms, who set a Mid-Con single-season scoring record (26.9 ppg) in 2002-03. UMKC's Matt Voelker earned All-America honors in the high jump at the 2002 NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championship, and Oral Roberts' Marsha Dawkins earned All-America honors in the 400 meter dash at both the 2003 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Track Championships.

Not restricted to success on the fields of play, Mid-Con athletes have made their mark in the classroom as well. The league had numerous Verizon Academic All-District selections in 2002-03, with six student-athletes chosen to Academic All-America teams. Two of those individuals - IUPUI's Tiffany Kyser and UMKC's Jon Kelley - were named first-team Academic All-Americans in women's basketball and men's track and field/cross country, respectively. Kyser was also named as the inaugural winner of the Creamland Dairies College Basketball Student-Athlete of the Year in 2003.

The Mid-Con sponsors 19 championship sports, which includes: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's indoor track & field, men's and women's outdoor track & field, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

DR. KENNETH L. SCHWAB

President

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, President of Centenary College since 1991, has been firmly established as an excellent educator and administrator over nearly 30 years of service. During his career, Dr. Schwab has consistently applauded student athletes who pursue academics and sports with equal fervor, discipline, and high standards, and it is these characteristics that make Centenary Gents and Ladies stand out among their peers.

A tenured professor in the Department of Education, Dr. Schwab hails originally from Indiana where he received his bachelor's degree from Purdue University in 1969. He then earned his master's in guidance and counseling from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro in 1972 and his doctorate in higher education administration at Indiana University in 1978.

Though Dr. Schwab has held many administrative positions at Centenary and other institutions, he continues to pursue his own scholarship as well, publishing a book, numerous articles, and several institutional planning documents regarding presidential leadership and transformational change. Indeed, Dr. Schwab's keen interest in leadership and strategic planning helped Centenary's latest comprehensive campaign raise over $100 million for the college. This amount exceeded the initial goal by over $30 million, enabling Centenary to build two new music facilities as well as renovate residence halls and the fitness center.

These improvements do not merely benefit the campus, though. From the arboretum to the chapel, the playhouse to the library, recital halls to the Gold Dome, Centenary encourages student involvement, preparing scholars for active civic participation. This small liberal arts institution focuses on the student and endeavors to facilitate academic, athletic, and social development for the whole person. Our faculty and staff are committed to these goals, particularly for student athletes.

Dr. Schwab has actively involved himself with Centenary students throughout his tenure here. He team-taught Centenary's First-Year Experience program with the college's Chair of Liberal Arts one semester, and he travels with various Centenary groups like the college choir, always remaining a great Gents and Ladies supporter. In fact, he and the Centenary Gent mascot led the campus as they unveiled the new fitness center.

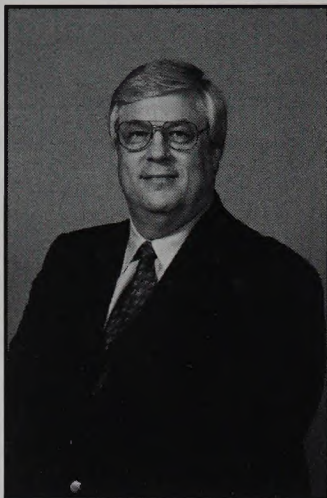

Active on-campus and off, Dr. Schwab participated in the Salzburg Seminar sponsored by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, served as a European Community Visitor to the Commission of European Communities, and continued his scholarly work at Oxford, Johns Hopkins, and Harvard Universities. He also represents Centenary on a number of community and academic boards, including the Associated Colleges of the South Board of Directors.

Dr. Schwab's wife, Pat, earned her doctorate in education and now teaches a course each semester at Centenary. Their three sons (Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher) played select soccer throughout their school years.

Centenary President Dr. Kenneth Schwab cheers along with the students in the stands at the Gold Dome.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

TAYLOR MOORE
Director of Athletics

Taylor Moore, a Centenary alum and former owner of the Shreveport Captains baseball team, became the College's athletic director on July 1, 2003. Moore replaced Dr. David Bedard, who decided to return to the classroom as a professor of health and exercise science after serving as athletic director for almost four years.

A 1969 Centenary graduate and former Centenary baseball coach, Moore was president and majority owner of Shreveport Baseball, Inc., which operated the Shreveport Captains Baseball Club, until he sold the franchise in 2000. The Captains were a Double-A professional baseball club affiliated with the San Francisco Giants.

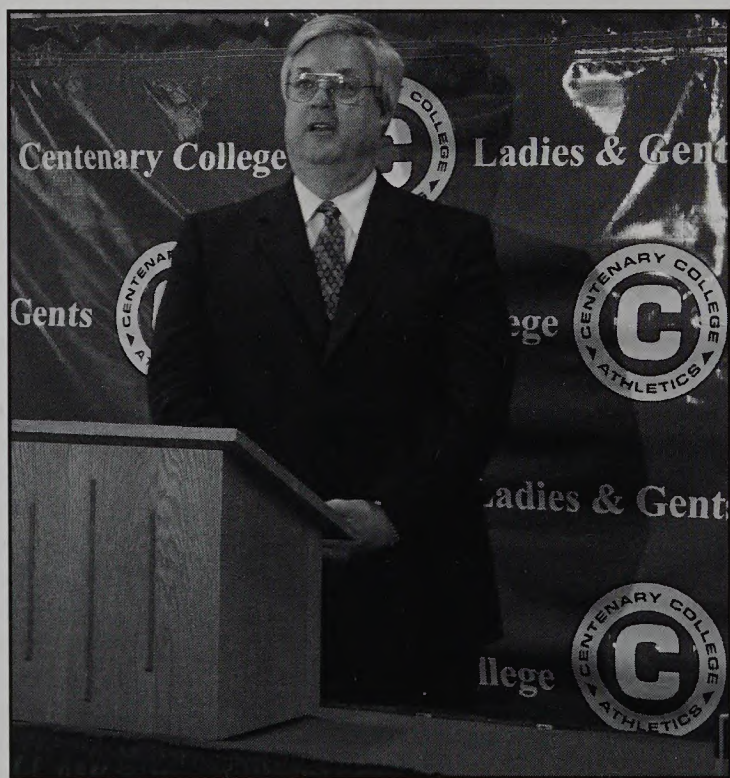

Moore has stayed active within the Centenary community, serving as a board member and former president of the Centenary Gents Club. In 2001 he received the Centenary Alumni Association's highest honor when he was named to the Alumni Hall of Fame.

Moore takes over a program that will begin play in the Mid-Continent Conference this fall after four years as an independent school. He will use his experience in leadership to make sure that Centenary athletics continues to grow and compete in its new home.

"Centenary has an exciting future ahead in athletics and I am pleased and honored to be able to have a part in it," Moore said. "I've been a member of the Centenary family for so long, I feel like I'm coming home. I have great respect for the College and its role in Division I competition."

Moore has been recognized with the Texas League Award of Merit for 25 years of leadership, the Shreveport-Bossier Advertising Federation's Award of Excellence, the Sports Foundation Sportsman of the Year Award and the Shreveport Journal Sportsman of the Year designation.

Long active in local civic affairs, Moore is a board member of the Frost Foundation, the Committee of One Hundred, Crimestoppers of Shreveport and Centenary College. Before taking over as athletic director, he served as secretary and member of the Executive Committee of the Centenary Board of Trustees.

"Taylor Moore can hit the ground running and we are fortunate to have someone of his caliber to lead us into this historic time for Centenary athletics."

TRAINING FACILITIES

Head Athletic Trainer
Alan Edwards

The Centenary College sports medicine facility is located on the bottom floor of the Gold Dome, where continued improvements have resulted in an enhanced facility.

The improvements include an upgraded computer system with injury tracking software, the addition of two stationary bicycles, and an increased storage capacity for the daily supplies used in treatments of student-athletes.

The training room is equipped with modalities to assist athletic trainers in the treatment of injuries of Centenary athletes. The room also contains training tables, an ice machine, and a whirlpool.

Alan Edwards begins his ninth year as head athletic trainer for the Centenary athletic program. Edwards is a 1991 graduate of McNeese State University with a bachelor of science in health and physical education. He earned his master's degree in exercise science at Northeast Louisiana University in 1993. Edwards' services are provided through a partnership between Centenary College and Highland Hospital.

Edwards also supervises student and volunteer assistants as they gain valuable experience in their pursuit of becoming Certified Athletic Trainers. Student and volunteer assistants obtain practical experience at home and on the road, working with the Gents and Ladies athletic teams.

Head Athletic Trainer Alan Edwards works on the back of volleyball player Catey Batte before a 2002 practice. Edwards works with Centenary's athletes before, during, and after all Centenary practices and athletic events. The stimulus machine being used is one of the recent additions to the training room.

2003 CENTENARY LADIES

VOLLEYBALL TEAM

SEASON OUTLOOK

CENTENARY LADIES 2003 PREVIEW

It's amazing how things can change in the course of a single calendar year. At this time last year, the volleyball team was coming off one of its worst seasons in history, the squad was beginning its fourth year as an independent, and only two players were coming back from the previous year. Head coach Jenny Hazelwood, the third head coach in four years, scrambled to find enough players to be competitive in her first year, and the schedule was brutal, with several long road trips and 43 total matches, more than most schools play.

Fast forward to the present. Six players are returning to a team that won ten more matches in 2002 than in 2001. Centenary is the newest member of the Mid-Continent Conference and eligible for the conference championship immediately. The schedule is back down to a manageable 33 matches, and Hazelwood was able to add depth to a program that has desperately needed it for several years.

"The newcomers I have brought in will add much-needed depth to run a better offense and give me a stronger team all around the court," Hazelwood says.

The key to a better offense lies with the setter, the quarterback of the volleyball team. Last season Lauren Sledge (Austin, TX) set school records for most assists in a match and most assists in a season. However, Sledge was inconsistent at times, fighting to place the ball in the right spot for her hitters.

This season Sledge will get some competition at the setter position from Stephanie Scanlan (Rockwall, TX). The trend among volleyball teams nationwide is to go with taller setters who can meet the ball earlier to make quicker sets, and the six-foot freshman has shown some potential in the first workouts of the season.

"Consistency is going to be a key this season, and our setters are working very hard to reach that goal," says Hazelwood.

No matter who the setter is, she will have two major weapons on the outside to pass the ball to. Sophomore Kelley Heckman (Baytown, TX) emerged as the leading hitter on the team as a freshman, setting school single-season records for most kills, kill attempts, and digs. If Heckman maintains that level of play in 2003, she will become one of the best players in the Mid-Continent Conference. She will be joined on the outside by freshman Ashley Templer (Cypress, TX), who has impressed the coaching staff with her jumping ability and her determination on the court.

A major weakness for the Ladies in 2002 was their blocking abilities. This year returning player Tracee Byrd (Long Beach, MS) gets some help at the net. Junior college transfer Gretchen Conlin (Mattoon, IL) becomes the tallest player on the team, and she will be depended on to stop the opponent's offense and give the Ladies several points at the net.

"One of our main goals is to improve our defense at the net," Hazelwood says. "Our added height will make a difference in earning more blocks and making it more difficult for our opponent's offense."

Another part of the defense that the Ladies are working to improve on in the preseason is their ability to dig the ball. The ability to keep the ball alive and move it to the setter will help the Ladies score more points and give up fewer points.

Casey Varnado (Big Sandy, TX), the only senior on the team, will move back to the libero position. Varnado started 2002 as the team's libero, but was moved to outside hitter to take some pressure off Heckman. Sophomore Kim Gladu (St. Francois-Du-Lac, Quebec, Canada) will also be a big part of the team's back row defense. There were times during the 2002 season that Gladu seemed to dig everything hit her way, and the team is counting on that perseverance to keep it in matches this season.

Gladu is one of the players who will be slotted in at whatever position she is needed. Freshmen Deborah Badie (Baton Rouge, LA) and Kelly Waterhouse (Hessmer, LA) will also be needed for their versatility. The team will be hurt by the loss of junior Catey Batte (Metairie, LA), probably the most versatile player on the squad. Batte underwent shoulder surgery over the summer and it is unknown whether or not she will be able to play at all in 2003.

Hazelwood has structured the preseason workouts to prepare the team for the tough early-season tournament schedule. The Ladies will face LSU in Baton Rouge in the season opener. They will also have matches in September against NCAA Tournament participant Texas A&M, regionally ranked Southwest Missouri State, and WAC schools Louisiana Tech and Tulsa.

But if there is one non-conference match the team is pointing to, it's the one on September 12 at the Texas A&M Invitational against the University of Southern California. The defending national champions bring back several players from last year's 31-1 squad, but the Ladies are not intimidated by the Women of Troy. The players realize that they have nothing to lose and everything to gain by playing a team the caliber of USC.

September 26 will be a historic night in Centenary volleyball, as the Ladies host Valparaiso in the first Mid-Continent Conference match ever at the Gold Dome. Oral Roberts is the class of the conference, having won six consecutive conference tournaments. Hazelwood feels that her team will be competitive within the conference and has a good shot to finish in the top four to qualify for the conference tournament.

"We have a good combination of very challenging matches and matches that we will be very competitive in," says Hazelwood. "Our tough preseason tournament schedule will help prepare us for the Mid-Con schedule."

JENNY HAZELWOOD

Head Coach

Jenny Hazelwood begins her second season as head coach of the Centenary volleyball team. After dealing with a tough schedule and a small squad in 2002, Hazelwood is aiming for improvement as the Ladies begin play in the Mid-Continent Conference.

On April 29, 2002, Hazelwood was announced as the new head coach of the Ladies volleyball team. Hazelwood came to Centenary after coaching two years at Mississippi College, a Division III institution.

"I am really excited about the upcoming season," Hazelwood says. "The mix of returning players and incoming talent will hopefully lead to a much improved team that can compete in the Mid-Continent Conference."

Hazelwood was a four-year starter for the Mississippi State volleyball team from 1996 to 1999. As a setter, she set school records for most assists in a match (83 vs. UNC Charlotte), in a season (1,541 in 1996), and in a career (5,505). She was named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll all four years at Mississippi State (1997-2000) and won the school's annual Newsom Award in 1999.

Not only did Hazelwood finish first in career assists for Mississippi State, but her 5,505 career assists also places her fourth all-time in Southeastern Conference history. She also finished in the top ten in other career categories at Mississippi State, placing sixth in career digs (1,107) and eighth in career block assists (199).

After becoming Centenary's head volleyball coach, Hazelwood has worked several summer camps throughout the South. The past two summers, she has been an instructor at Judy Green's Volleyball Camp at the University of Alabama. This past July, she also helped Matt Peck at the University of North Alabama Volleyball Camp.

Hazelwood received a bachelor of science degree in education and fitness management from Mississippi State in 2000 and a master's degree in applied communications from Mississippi College in 2002. She is married to Brian Hazelwood, a former placekicker on the Mississippi State football team.

ASSISTANT COACH

KRISSI McFARLAND
Assistant Coach

Krissi McFarland begins her third season as the assistant coach for the Centenary Ladies volleyball team. This will mark the seventh consecutive season that McFarland has been a part of the Ladies program, having been a player before becoming assistant coach.

“I’ve been here through the recent ups and downs of the program,” McFarland says. “I am glad to see the progress that the program is making under Jenny Hazelwood. I am excited to be a part of the Mid-Continent Conference and am looking forward to traveling to different parts of the country.”

McFarland will assist Coach Hazelwood in most areas, including scheduling road trips and conditioning, as well as helping plan practices and match strategy.

“Krissi’s experience at this level really adds to the quality of her coaching. She has a solid understanding of the game and she compliments my coaching style,” says Hazelwood.

An outside hitter from Fort Worth, Tex., McFarland finished her career in the top ten of several Centenary volleyball career records. McFarland is presently first in block assists (149), second in total blocks (177), third in kill attempts (1,966) and service aces (107), fourth in kills (619), and ninth in digs (513) and block solos (28). She was a major part of the 1999 team, the only team in Centenary history to finish above .500; the team also led the nation in service aces per game that season.

In the spring of 2003, McFarland was the head coach of the Texarkana Spikers, a club volleyball team made up of 15- and 16-year old females. She learned a lot about coaching from that experience, lessons that will help her this season and in the future.

“I realized that patience is a key to coaching young females. It was nice to get back to teaching the fundamentals, something which can’t always be done at the collegiate level,” McFarland says.

McFarland received her bachelor’s degree in English from Centenary in 2002 and is pursuing her master’s degree in education.
